Introduction from Gerry Webber, Chair APUC

On behalf of the Board of APUC Limited, I am delighted to introduce APUC’s Annual Report for the year 2014 -15 and my first as Chair of APUC.

This year has again been one of substantial development and change for the sector and APUC, and also another one of significant achievement.

The proportion of sector spend reported during the year going through collaborative agreements is now at a steady state of circa 30% (although we are working with the sector to increase this further) with benefits reported for the year estimated at over £16m from collaborative contracting alone on a “BT1” (generally versus previous price paid) basis. This equates to benefits of circa £27m when measured on a “BT2” basis (against market pricing) – a measure that recognises that contracts are being re-let on terms that retain previous benefits.

APUC continued supporting the newly merged colleges through their transition to establishing procurement procedures and policies, and in having professional procurement staff within colleges, many provided by APUC as a Shared Service.

The Scottish Government consultation on the EU Directives and Reform Act options closed at the end of April 2015. APUC submitted a response on behalf of the sectors. The regulations and guidance that were hoped for in the summer were expected then to be delayed however until October but eventually were rescheduled for early 2016. APUC raised serious concerns over this timing as we believe organisations across the publicly funded sectors would need 6 months to properly prepare for the implementation of the changes. To mitigate as many of the impacts of this as possible, APUC worked with the government over the summer (and thereafter into the 2015/16 year) to obtain a prior understanding of the outcomes in order that we can deliver support / implementation work as early as possible.

The ISSC team completed its landscape review of the sectors and published outcome reports including the 11 priority areas for potential for development. The first pilot shared service is a Moodle shared service to be hosted at Edinburgh Napier University with Edinburgh College planned to be the first to utilise the shared service. The HE/FE Sector Oversight Board met on 6 May 2015 and confirmed the continued funding for the ISSC. UCSS.ac.uk will host a sector Information Services Training Schedule that will have relevant training opportunities available to the sectors in Scotland for training in this area posted on it.

Good progress was maintained in the Procurement Capability Assessment process with 91% (82% and 9%) of institutions now in the Improved Performance and Superior categories.

The Hunter database now has over £5.7b worth of collaborative contract spend recorded and is starting to be used to support the creation of contract registers, a requirement of the new Scottish and EU regulations. The Hunter Remote App was developed to allow it to be quickly and easily deployed to institutions. The Sustain website was launched with Suppliers now being invited to complete a questionnaire and submit evidence to allow monitoring of social responsibility and environmental sustainability in the supply chain.

APUC continues to work closely with its client community to optimise the service that it offers. Angus Warren, the Chief Executive, and senior managers continued with regular stakeholder engagement, and the annual Contracting Priorities Workshop and Strategy Group meetings were all well supported. Planning for a new Procurement Networking Conference was completed and successful events held in September 2014 and June 2015.

APUC has continued to achieve considerable success for the sectors by working closely with its client institutions and, with them, forming a highly focussed collective team. I would like to extend my thanks to all institutional staff involved in procurement activity and to all staff in APUC for this outstanding example of sustained and highly productive collaboration.

I should also like to convey my warm thanks to my colleagues on the APUC Board whose guidance and support for the development of APUC has been, and continues to be, extremely valuable and is much appreciated by the management team.

The 2014-15 Financial Statements and associated reports are available on the corporate information page on the APUC website.

Highlights of operational and strategic activities
August 2014 - July 2015

General
The new 2015-2018 APUC Strategy and Delivery Plan was launched at the AGM and Procurement Network Conference in June.

The newly formed Construction Reform Delivery Group held its first meetings with almost 40 projects being approved for further development by the group.

College Services.
The total number of contracts supported by the college services team in the year by the end of July 2015 was as follows:

- Contracted: 76
- Total value: £6.6M
- Number of colleges: 18
- Savings: over £1.39m

A further 79 were in progress (£28.2M) and 175 planned (£14.2M) across 22 colleges.

Institutional Procurement Services
A new role of Head of Institutional Procurement Services was appointed to manage senior institutional stakeholder relationships and lead and support all APUC staff that work in delivering institutional services across Universities and Colleges.

eSolutions
There was a continued development of the Hunter solution with v17 released on March 15. The capture of multiple benefits against a contract or agreement was the main feature but we also added in some functionality to make the use of Hunter a better experience for the user. Ability to sort the contracts list on screen, create a task and add to Outlook tasks and ability to see the list of contracts which a supplier has been named on and whether an organisation has adopted that agreement are now available functions.

The release of PECOS v14 allowed us to progress with the eGateway development work allowing organisations to make use of the eProcurement capability of finance systems to enable easy access to the managed content available in PECOS.

Sustainable Supply Chain Development Programme
The Sustain web tool was launched and in use with the first 5 prioritised suppliers and roll out continued. Due to the nature of this product it is likely to continue to evolve over the next couple of years. Some user interface improvements were planned based on early feedback.

The Management Trainee programme proved extremely successful, with all 3 initial trainees now in full time employment in the sector.

Recruitment of the trainees for the second round of the programme was completed successfully.

Governance
On 28 February 2015 and 21 May 2015 respectively, Irene Bews and Nigel Paul resigned from the APUC Board as university sector representatives and Sheena Stewart, Abertay University and Liam McCabe, University of Stirling were appointed on 1 December 2014 and 1 March 2015 respectively to take their places. These appointments were confirmed by election as part of the AGM formalities in June 2015. The three non-sectoral Directors, David Ross, Stuart Paterson and Douglas MacKellar remained in office, and are now on a 3 year appointment cycle (as per sector directors) allowing for majority continuity in the event of routine change of appointees.

Procurement Capability Assessments (PCAs)
The annual report for the 2014 PCA programme, detailing the breakdown of results and key findings was published in January 2015. This was the 6th consecutive year of conducting PCAs in universities and colleges as part of the public procurement reform programme.

Some merged institutions were being assessed in 2014 for the first time with a new question set. This format had a reduced number of questions and was generally judged to be more difficult to meet than the 2012 question set without clear supporting evidence being shown.

The average score across the Higher and Further Education institutions was 60%.

2014 was the final year for the PCA in its current format. A project called ‘Assessment Regime for 2015’ was approved by the Public Procurement Reform Board (PPRB) in February 2014 and a project team, comprised of representatives from each of the sectors, was established to develop a new assessment.

The new assessment was designed to enable all organisations to continue to improve their procurement capability and to meet the changing procurement landscape and requirements of:

- The Procurement Reform (Scotland) Act
- Changes in EU Legislation
- The recommendations of the “Review of Scottish Public Sector Procurement in Construction” report

It also expanded its scope into new areas of commercial management of organisations. The new assessment regime was finalised in mid 2015 and planned for implementation in time for the 2016 round of assessments.
